Conditions for the Use of Photographic Reproductions Taken by The Newberry Library of Library Materials

1. To use the photographic copy only once and only for the purposes listed in the Letter of Agreement. Any subsequent or different use (including subsequent editions, book club editions, paperback editions, different languages, etc.) constitutes a reuse and must be applied for in writing. Reuse fees will be established on a case by case basis.
2. To specify when multiple use of an image is intended. (A common example of multiple use occurs with exhibition use when an image appears in the exhibit, the exhibit catalogue, and on posters and other promotional materials.) Multiple use fees will be established on a case by case basis.
3. To credit properly. It is mandatory that you credit The Newberry Library as specified in the returned Letter of Agreement.
  - a) With printed matter, it is preferred that the credit line appear on the same or facing page as the illustration. Crediting of each individual image is mandatory in all cases.
  - b) With filmstrips, include the credit with the other "Sources of illustrations." In manuals that accompany filmstrips, credit at the point where the illustration is discussed.
  - c) With exhibitions, credit within exhibition area.
4. To supply a complimentary copy of the published work if this is a condition in the Letter of Agreement. In such cases, The Newberry Library will consider the item on order and act accordingly.
5. To indicate in the accompanying caption or label any and all changes that you have made to the original photographic copy, such as taking a detail, superimposing, or tinting.
6. Not to permit others to reproduce the photographic copy or any facsimile of it.
7. To state clearly in the "Letter of Agreement" when the photographic copy will be reproduced for advertisement purposes such as dust jacket, advertisement copy, and ephemeral promotion material. ("Advertisement purpose" is further defined in the fee schedule.)
8. In authorizing the publication of a photographic copy The Newberry Library does not surrender its own right to publish it or grant permission to others to do so.
9. Copyrighted materials are copied with the understanding that the recipient will not use it for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research without obtaining the signed authorization of the copyright holder. Applicants assume all responsibility for questions of copyright and invasion of privacy that may arise in copying and in the use made of the photographic copy.
10. Any exceptions or additions to the above conditions will appear in, and be considered part of, the Letter of Agreement.

Warning Concerning Copyright Restrictions

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, U.S. Code) governs the making of photocopies of other reproductions of copyright material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproductions. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use" that use may be liable for copyright infringement. This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of the copyright law. The granting of permission to publish by the library does not absolve users of materials from securing permission from copyright owners and payment of such additional fees as the owners may require if the Library does not own copyright or if the material is not in the public domain. Applicants assume all responsibility for questions of copyright and invasion of privacy that may arise in copying and in the use made of the photographic copy.
