Adair Family

Papers, 1700's-1900's

One Box

Abstract: Notes and census records tracing family to Scotland and various states in the union. Folders are grouped and assigned numbers lacking an overall key to the system, making it difficult to follow.

Edmund Andrews Collection

Papers, 1600's-1940's

One Box

Abstract: Research and personal history of two members of the Andrews family, Dr. Edmund Andrews and his grandson Edmund Lathrop Andrews Jr. The first two folders are personal journals of Dr. Andrews, including folder one on his experiences as a military surgeon during the Civil War (1901) and one about his travels to and in Europe, also medical accounts (1867). The third folder is the genealogical research of Edmund Lathrop Andrews Jr. containing pedigree charts and notes (1939). Includes 120 total family surnames.

Barnard Family

Book, 1600's-1950's

One Box

Abstract: Genealogical research entitled "A Barnard Family History with Allied Families: Line of Descent from Francis Barnard (1617-1698) to Harrison Bernard Barnard (1872-1952)." Study done by Harrison Bernard Barnard in 1949 contains pedigree charts, wills, notes, and about 30 family surnames. It also goes further backwards and forwards in years of study than the title indicates. The appendix is a pedigree chart tracing the Barnard family back to the King of the Franks who died in 741. This appendix has a complete research bibliography.

Burgess Family

Papers, 1600's-1900's

One Box

Abstract: Four folders all of different lineages of the Burgess Family. The first begins in the 1600s and continues into the 1900s, while the other 3 start in the 1800s. The folders each contain personal letters, charts and notes. Many of these folders contain incomplete pages; no author of research or original source credited.

Campbell Family

Papers, 1700's-1900's

One Box

Abstract: Personal research done by different members of the Campbell family. Folder one contains letters, journals, a pedigree chart tracing back to the 1400s, and notes from other Campbells along with Hulbert's own research. Folder two contains pedigree charts, notes and photocopies from microfilm which cite their sources. There is no credited author of this research; it was a gift of James Stephen (Steve) Downey, Jr. Folder three includes notes and charts. Folder four contains notes and credits no authors for the research. Folder five includes notes and wills. Folder six contains research notes and includes a few issues of Clan Campbell Society News.

McArthur Family

Papers, 1600's-mid 1900's

Four Boxes

Abstract: "The American Ancestry of my daughters Joan [Gillett] and Constance Elizabeth McArthur of Chicago, IL" contains nine untitled folders. First folder is an introduction to the work containing news clippings and a foreword by the compiler. The other eight folders include notes, letters, news clippings, photographs, ancestral charts, and pedigree charts. The work, compiled by Dr. Selim Walker McArthur in 1933, seems out of order.

McDonell/McDonald Family

Papers, 1700's-1990's

One Box

Abstract: Research material gathered by Anne McDonell Heisler includes 16 folders containing research notes, letters, copies of published articles, short family histories, copies of official documents, various diary entries, maps, and illustrations. Materials primarily concern family members in Scotland and Canada. Short genealogies of other families, such as the Grant, Kirk, MacNicol, and McRae families, are also included.

Miles Family

Papers, 1600's-early 1900's

Two Boxes

Abstract: This study, possibly compiled by Frederick B. Miles, contains five untitled folders including notes, pedigree charts, family group charts, news clippings and letters. These records vary from handwritten to typed, include several additional surnames, and credit some original sources. However, the study itself seems incomplete.

Thomas Minor Family

Papers, 1600's-early 1900's

Eight Boxes

Abstract: Not all but most boxes include notes, news clippings, photographs and letters. First box contains maps, diary entries, Mayflower list, and programs from 1930 family reunion. The index documents all surnames in this study of the descendants of the people named in the box titles. The anonymous compiler credits many original sources, and demonstrates a relationship between Minor/Miner family and past President General Ulysses S. Grant.

Witwer Family

Papers, late 1800's-mid 1900's

Seven Boxes

Abstract: First two boxes contain "Witwer Genealogy," the research of Edward B. Witwer, continuing his grandfather's studies (A. John Wittwer). Includes mostly letters and Christmas cards; also notes, family group sheets, news clippings, obituaries, photographs, and maps. Last four boxes contain work by Dorothy Witwer Stabler, Secretary of Witwer Reunion Association. She has created supplements to previously published books on Witwer genealogy and included them in this vertical file.
