Newberry Library Cartographic Catalog (2015)

This catalog includes over 85,000 descriptions of maps, atlases, and secondary reference sources on the history of cartography. Arrangement is alphabetical by the first assigned geographic subject heading or topic. Subject headings are most often comprised of place names followed by the date of situation, and multiple subject headings are separated by angle brackets <<>>. Refer to the catalog index to identify items by subject headings, authors and titles. In the example below, the index directs the reader to record number 63381, which is not to be confused with the map's call number:

63381 Parma (Italy : Province) - Maps - 1740<<>>Piacenza (Italy : Province) - Maps - 1740
L'Etat du duc de Parme. Paris, [ca. 1740].
Authors: Nolin, Jean Baptiste, 1648-1708 -- Locato, Omberto -- Johan Gabriel Sack Map Collection (Newberry Library). I:151

Request Items by Call Numbers, Not Record Numbers: Readers wishing to see an item, request a reproduction of it, or cite it correctly in writing, should do so by its call number, which appears in bold type as the last line of each description. To see or request a copy of the map described above, refer to its complete call number, in this case Sack map4F G6713.E5:3P3 1740 N6 (Pr Ct).

Notes on Records and Call Numbers added to the Online Catalog: Approximately 59,000 of these 85,000 records, all including the call number suffix (Pr Ct), were merged into the Newberry's main online catalog in April 2015. As they are revised record by record in the online catalog, the suffix (Pr Ct) will be deleted. The 59,000 records in this catalog that include call numbers ending in (Pr Ct) are found in the online catalog by Boolean searches combining the acronym NLCC with keywords found in this catalog. However, 26,000 records included in this catalog were not added to the online catalog in 2015, as noted below:

Not at Newberry Library (Pending Donation) (Pr Ct): This call number identifies over 6,200 items in the private collection of Roger Baskes earmarked for eventual donation to the Newberry, and not yet added to the library's online catalog. Readers interested in pending donations should use the descriptions here to search the online catalog, and request reference assistance from Newberry staff. As of August 2015, over 10,000 Baskes collection items were described in the online catalog with unique and complete call numbers.

Call numbers ending with (NLO): About 19,000 records in this catalog include call numbers ending with (NLO). These are duplicate records derived from online catalog records and added to this catalog prior to its retro-conversion to the online catalog. Note, however, that (NLO) records in this catalog often include added mapmakers' names, topical and geographic subject headings, and bibliographic notes not present in the online catalog. Contingent on future budgeting and staffing constraints, the added content found in (NLO) records may be used to augment online catalog records.

Notes on Record Numbers: Record numbers in this printed catalog and its index are different than those in the electronic version of Newberry Library Cartographic Catalog, a static and obsolete database no longer being updated or revised. Readers are encouraged to use the descriptions here to access main online catalog records for the same items, by using Boolean searches combining the acronym NLCC with keywords found in this catalog. Readers are also encouraged to ask for reference assistance from Newberry staff.

Request and cite items by the complete call number forming the last line of each catalog entry.

Authors: Thompson, David, 1770-1857 -- Adams, David -- William L. Clements Library
1 map ; 34 x 26 cm.
Photostat (positive) of a ca. 1817 manuscript; according to a note on the verso, the col. original is in the William L. Clements Library, but it has not been located in their published map catalogs. Presumably made in 1817, when the International Boundary Commission surveyors (David Thompson for Great Britain and David Adams for the United States) were working at St. Regis.

Request and cite items by the complete call number forming the last line of each catalog entry.
For more information refer to the title page of this volume.
Shows American and English camps on Île-Jaune (St. Regis Island), with an observatory and meridian line running between them; the 45th degree of N. Lat. is also shown just south of St. Regis.

Removed from the Helen H. Tanner Papers.

Tarihi Yeni Dünya, el-musemma be hadis-i nev (manuscript). [ca. 1600].

Unsigned ms. copy, in Ottoman Turkish, dated 1368-1369, but actually from ca. 1600, of the Tarih-i Hind-i gharbi [A history of the India of the West], written by an anonymous Turk around 1580 (sometimes attributed to Kâtip Çelebi). The account relates the explorations of Columbus, Cortes, Pizarro, and others, introducing American colonial history and the new geographic discoveries to the Islamic world. Chaps. 1 and 2 discuss Islamic cosmology and geography, the Old World with its seven ‘climes,’ its bodies of water, and areas of aridity and fertility, and the Atlantic Ocean. Chap. 3 contains one section on North America and the Magellan expedition, and another on South America, mainly Peru. The author, probably assisted by someone from Spain who knew Italian, worked from Italian translations of 16th-century texts: López de Gómara’s Historia general de las Indias; Fernández de Oviedo y Valdés’ De la natural hystoria de las Indias; Peter Martyr’s De orbe novo; and Historia del descubrimiento y conquista del Peru by Agustín de Zárate. Includes three double-page maps (cataloged separately), oriented with the south at the top, illustrated in red, blue, black, white, and gold with small pictures of cities and sailing ships, and borders in gold and black. Includes two circular hemispheric maps (24 cm.) of the Old and New Worlds, and a rectangular mappa mundi (19 x 26 cm.), very similar to the one by J. Gastaldi in Geografiya di Claudio Ptolemeo (Venice, 1548). Thirteen color miniatures illustrate textual descriptions of native American flora and fauna, such as the coconut, guava, and banana trees, cochineal cactus, tapir, armadillo, bison, pelican, and jaguar; a landscape of the Peruvian town of Potosí, with its silver mountain; and two imaginary drawings of a merman, and a wak-wak tree, bearing fruit in the form of naked women. Cf. Goodrich.

Text in Arabic ‘nesih’ script, rubricated, within gold and black borders; illuminated head-piece is a gold cartouche on a lapis background decorated with gold, red, turquoise, and white flowers; on heavy yellowish glazed paper.

First printed in Constantinople in 1730 by Ibrahim Mu'teferrika; reprinted in 1875 without the maps. Cf. Goodrich.

Modern dark brown morocco, with inset center panels of dark brown calf from an earlier binding; stamped mandorlas on both covers; gold-stamped binder’s title: ‘Description of the ‘New World’. Circa XVIIth century A.D.’; tan levant slipcase with same title.

Acquired by Edward E. Ayer in 1901 from Dr. Cyrus Adler.

Checklist of photographic reproductions of manuscript maps of America held by European libraries and archives (including the Karpinski collection) / compiled by Alexei Postnikov for the Newberry Library. Chicago : Newberry Library, 1994.

Added title: Karpinski collection checklist.

Provisional index to over 1,300 photos of manuscript maps relating to America, primarily from French, British, and Spanish archives. Over 700 of these photos were produced in 1926 by Louis Karpinski and deposited in six U.S. libraries (Clements Library (University of Michigan), Library of Congress, New York Public Library, Harvard University, Huntington Library, and Newberry Library).

Approximately 450 photos form part of Archer Butler Hulbert's multi-volume Crown Collection of photographs of American maps, issued in several series between 1907-1934. Other photos were acquired by Ruth Lapham Butler, the Newberry's Ayer Collection curator in the 1930's-1950's.

All entries extensively revised and subsequently and separately described in the Newberry Library Cartographic Catalog.

1616 America - Maps - 1671<<>>Western Hemisphere - Maps - 1671

America : being the latest, and most accurate description of the New World; containing the original of the inhabitants, and the remarkable voyages thither. The conquest of the vast empires of Mexico and Peru, and other large provinces and territories, with the several European plantations in those parts. Also their cities, fortresses, towns, temples, mountains, and rivers. Their habits, customs, manners, and religions. Their plants, beasts, birds, and serpents. With an appendix containing, besides several other considerable additions, a brief survey of what hath been discover'd of the unknown southland and the Arctick region. Collected from most authentick authors, augmented with later observations, and adorn'd with maps and sculptures, by John Ogilby ...

London : Printed by the author, 1671.

Authors: Ogilby, John, 1600-1676 -- Montanus, Arnoldus, 1625?-1683 -- Lamb, Francis -- Ashley, Anthony, Sir, 1551-1628 -- Simpson, Charles, fl. 1706 -- Baltimore, Cecil Calvert, Baron, ca. 1605-1675 -- Edward E. Ayer Collection (Newberry Library)
1 atlas (4 preliminary leaves, 674, [1] p., 32 pl., 6 ports., 19 maps) ; 43 cm.

Apparently based in part on Arnoldus Montanus’s De Nieuwe en onbekende weereled: of beschryving van American en ’t zuid-land, which was granted copyright privileges in July, 1670, and published in Amsterdam : Jacob van Meurs, 1671. Sabin, who records an edition of Ogilby as bearing date of 1670, says: "This English translation is, like Dapper's an impudent plagiarism' from Montanus, plates included. In the text many changes and additions were made by Ogilby, and his maps of Maryland, Jamaica and Barbados are not found in Montanus. The general map of America in Ogilby also differs materially from that in the Dutch work.

Maps of America (opposite p. 1) and Jamaica (between p. 336-337) engraved by Francis Lamb; map of America dedicated to Anthony Ashley.
The list of prints inserted includes “Arx Carolina” and “Virginiæ pars australi,” but omits “Barbaords,” although the latter map is to be found between p. 376 and p. 377.

Hung on the Artifacts Cage fencing (Feb. 2009). Condition: Map glued down on board and framed. Worn and cracked, especially in lower border, some areas of small loss, two very slightly affecting map proper, some fly specks and waterstains. Linen backing visible at one point; this is probably a good sign, in that it would be easier to remove from backing board for treatment. Generally dark appearance, looks like a surface cleaning or washing would brighten it considerably. Coloring does not look old, however -- may have been applied over old dirt. Overall appearance fairly attractive. Forms part of the Andrew McNally III Collection. artifacts cage framed map9F G3290 1776 .C6 (PrCt)

Authors: Bowen, Emanuel, -1767 -- Gerald F. Fitzgerald Collection (Newberry Library)

1 map ; on sheet 41 x 54 cm.

Scale ca. 1:21,400,000.

Relief shown pictorially.

Prime meridian: London.

Includes 2 columns of text. Engraved plate 'No. 110' at lower center beneath map.

Probably detached from an edition of Bowen, Emanuel. A Complete system of geography. --
In the sources on the topography of the Arctic regions, a wealth of information is provided. Authors such as Emanuel Bowen, whose works include "A New & accurate map of the North Pole" (1747), have contributed significantly to our understanding of the area. Bowen's maps are notable for their accuracy and the detailed information they provide, including the remote regions adjacent to it. The maps are also characterized by the use of remote atlases and charts, and adjustments by astronomic observations.

Copy 1 of 3 copies; copy 1 originally collected by J.M. Wordie, copies 2 and 3 collected by G.F. Fitzgerald.

Newberry duplicate in Bowen atlas: +G 11.11 v.2 no. 110.

1 map ; 42 cm. in diam.

Black and white reproduction of map 'Translated and revised by the American Geographical Society of New York from map in Andree's Handatlas, 8th edition, 1924.'

Curiously a reproduction of a map in the collection of the Royal Geographical Society.

Copyright 1929....'

Show limits of pack-ice and icebergs.

'Unexplored or unseen areas on the Arctic Basin are left white. Areas that were within the mathematical horizon of visibility from sledge, ship, ship's masthead, or aircraft, as the case may be, are assumed to be known. As fog has not been taken into account in the computation the map slightly exaggerates the size of the known areas.'

Siege of Atlanta. [Georgia, 1864?].
Authors: Rudy Lamont Ruggles Collection (Newberry Library)
1 ms. map : hand col. ; 26 x 36 cm.
Unsigned manuscript.
Not drawn to scale.
Pencil and watercolour on paper.
... "[D]etailed depiction of the Union forces suggests it is by a soldier or civilian traveling with Sherman's army. The charming naive style renders it difficult to assign precise locations to the units and fortifications depicted, but the level of detail suggests it was drawn by someone who was on the spot or had considerable second-hand information ... This writer has been led to believe that the map originally came to market through an estate auction in Austinburg, Ohio, since which time it has passed through a number of hands. In this regard it is worth mentioning that numerous Ohio units were present at the battle, both in Schofield's Army of the Ohio (not shown on the plan) and in regiments of the Armies of the Cumberland and Tennessee. - See more at:
