Letter, dated March 22, 1884, in Ile St. Michel in the Azores, to Henry Harrisse, French bibliographer and historian, from Ernesto do Canto, Portuguese bibliographer and author, introducing R.G. Haliburton. Haliburton is a houseguest at Canto's residence in the Azores, and as a result of their conversations on the discovery of America, Canto asks Harrisse if he would be willing to help Haliburton with his investigations into the early history of the Portuguese colony in Cape Breton, Nova Scotia.

Listed as map no. in Mortier's Atlas nouveau des cartes géographiques choisies, 1703.--cf. Phillips 2823.

Covens and Mortier maps are essentially facsimiles or copies of the late 17th century maps of Covens and Mortier, one of the most important map publishing houses of Amsterdam. This example is a facsimile of a 1720 map. It shows the Archipelag du Mexique (including Mexico, Central America, and the Caribbean) with many islands and coastal features. The map is hand-colored and measures 558 x 984 mm. (neat line), 604 x 1,013 mm. (plate mark), on a sheet 634 x 1,070 mm. The title is 'Teâtre de la guerre en Amerique telle qu'elle est à present possedée par les Espagnols, Anglois, Françoys, et Hollandois, &c.'

Authors: Brückner, Martin. 1963--Omohundro Institute of Early American History & Culture xii, 485 p. : ill., maps ; 25 cm.

"Drawing from both current historical interpretations and new interdisciplinary perspectives, this collection provides diverse approaches to understanding the multilayered exchanges that went into creating cartographic knowledge in and about the Americas. In the introduction, editor Martin Brückner provides a critical assessment of the concept of cartography and of the historiography of maps. The individual essays, then, range widely over space and place, from the imperial reach of Iberian and British cartography to indigenous conceptualizations, including "dirty," ephemeral maps and star charts, to demonstrate that pre-nineteenth-century American cartography was at once a multiform and multicultural affair. The essays also bring to light original archives and innovative methodologies for investigating spatial relations among peoples in the Western Hemisphere." --from the publisher.

"Published for the Omohundro Institute of Early American History and Culture, Williamsburg, Virginia."

Abstract: After the first voyage of Vasco da Gama to India (1498), the conquest of Malacca by Afonso de Albuquerque (1511) and the first Portuguese landing at the Chinese province of Guangdong (1513), Europe regained the capability to inquire on a regular basis about China's geographical reality, a kind of learning process that had been suspended at the end of Pax Mongolica (mid fourteenth-century). In this research we will list and analyse those textual and cartographical objects whose contents were crucial to inform the learned Europeans about the Chinese world between c. 1500 and c. 1630.

Cartography - Computer programs - 2010 Geographic information systems - 2010 Digital mapping - 2010
x, 217 p.; ill., maps ; 26 cm.
Review: The use of maps as a means of conveying geographical information hasn’t changed much since ancient times. But the methods of gathering data for map-making, of course, have changed drastically. Mapping: A Critical Introduction to Cartography and GIS examines the critical role that Geographic Information Systems (GIS) and cartography play in the study of geography and a wide range of disciplines. By exploring topics such as race and identity, the politics of GIS, the mapping of cyberspace, surveillance, and map art, we discover exactly what it means to "use" maps and GIS critically in today's world. "The book also examines the historical development of mapping, reviews the emergence of thematic mapping in modern Europe, and explores how maps produce space and place. Several real-world case studies illustrate key concepts and provide readers with a practical context for the theoretical approaches and ideas being presented. Mapping: A Critical Introduction to Cartography and GIS firmly situates mapping at the heart of thinking geographically and provides readers with a solid conceptual foundation in the basic principles of cartography and the technological advances that have changed the face of map-making." -- Back cover.

Tales from the map room / a BBC-TV productions in association with Ambrose Video Publishing ; producer, Julian Stenhouse ; narrated by Philippa Davies ; photography, Martin Patmore, Graham Day ; music, Andy Roberts ; film editor, Peter Essex. New York, NY : Ambrose Video Pub., 1993.
Authors: Stenhouse, Julian -- Davies, Philippa -- Ambrose Video Publishing -- British Broadcasting Corporation. Television Service 6 videocassettes (ca. 180 min.) : sd., col. ; 1/2 in.
Abstract: X doesn't always mark the spot. Still maps can unlock the past and illuminate the present. This series explores the enormous variety of maps, ancient and modern and the related history and politics that dictate the map-makers all. Each of the six half hour programs focuses on a single theme: map trickery, maps and ownership, maps and warfare, maps as route finders, maps and cities and maps of the seaboard. Original maps are blended with historical reconstruction and expert witnesses to present an intriguing tale of our ever-changing views of the world.
Contents: v. 1 A tissue of lies -- v. 2 Plumb pudding in danger -- v. 3 Path of glory -- v. 4 On the road -- v. 5 Metropolis -- v. 6 On the rocks.

Imago mundi. Berlin : London [etc. various publishers], 1935-date.
Authors: International Society for the History of Cartography -- Imago Mundi Ltd. -- Edward E. Ayer Collection (Newberry Library)

v.1 (1935) +

The leading scholarly journal devoted exclusively to the history of cartography, it was founded by Leo Bagrow.

Editors: 1935- Leo Bagrow, with Hans Wertheim, 1935; Edward Lynam, 1937-

Now published by the International Society for the History of Cartography. Indexes to the first and second ten volumes are in v. 10 (1953) and v. 20 (1966); the cumulative index to vols. 21-40 (through 1988), published in 1991, is a disaster, only marginally easier to use than looking at each volume.

Includes annual bibliography at end of every issue, also lacking a cumulative index, making it very difficult to use for topical searches. Earlier volumes contain a number of duplicate and incomplete entries. Arranged by author; careful and uniform editing and annual subject index begin with v. 29.

xix, 391 p.: ill., maps ; 24 cm.
"This book is the fruition of work from contributors to the Art and cartography: Cartography and art symposium held in Vienna in February 2008."--P. [vi].
"The contributions in this book address the use of 'different' geo-communication tools that could allow for improved visualization of geography - by incorporating art. It is envisaged that the work of this book will help to re-define how we can better visualize Space and Place, considering: Science, Technology and Art... The book is therefore a celebration of the 'meeting point' between Art and Cartography. It provides a starting point for a journey that will explore innovative methods and techniques for representing our world using the complementary techniques from Art, Science and technology."-- Book jacket.

Summary: In the early 1990s, celebrated graphic designer Paula Scher began painting maps of the world as she sees it. The larger her canvases grew, the more expressionistic her geographical visions became. Displaying a powerful command of image and expressionistic her geographical visions became. Displaying a powerful command of image and expressionistic her geographical visions became. Displaying a powerful command of image and expressionistic her geographical visions became. Displaying a powerful command of image and expressionistic her geographical visions became.
type. Scher brilliantly transformed the surface area of our world. Paintings as tall as twelve feet depict continents, countries, and cities swirling in torrents of information and undulating with colorful layers of hand-painted boundary lines, place-names, and provocative cultural commentary. Collected here for the first time, Paula Scher MAPS presents thirty-nine of Scher's obsessively detailed, highly personal creations.

"Making the case for a new kind of visual history, The Goddess and the Nation charts the pictorial life and career of Bharat Mata, 'Mother India', the Indian nation imagined as mother/goddess, embodiment of national territory, and unifying..."
symbol for the country's diverse communities. Soon after Mother India's emergence in the late nineteenth century, artists, both famous and amateur, began to picture her in various media, incorporating the map of India into her visual persona. The images they produced enabled patriotic men and women in a heterogeneous population to collectively visualize India, affectively identify with it, and even become willing to surrender their lives for it. Filled with illustrations, including 100 in color, The Goddess and the Nation draws on visual studies, gender studies, and the history of cartography to offer a rigorous analysis of Mother India's appearance in painting, print, poster art, and pictures from the late nineteenth century to the present. By exploring the mutual entanglement of the scientifically mapped image of India and a (Hindu) mother/goddess, Sumathi Ramaswamy reveals Mother India as a figure who relies on the British colonial mapped image of her dominion to distinguish her from the other goddesses of India, and to guarantee her novel status as embodiment, sign, and symbol of national territory. Providing an exemplary critique of ideologies of gender and the science of cartography, Ramaswamy demonstrates that images do not merely reflect history; they actively make it." -- Back cover.

"Geographer Gunnar Olsson offers in Abysmal a critique of the way human thought and action have become deeply immersed in the rhetoric of cartography and how this cartographic reasoning allows the powerful to map out other people's lives. Abysmal will appeal to an eclectic audience - to geographers and cartographers, but also to anyone interested in the history of ideas, culture, and art."--Jacket.

Summary: Maps are both works of art and valuable sources of information about the past. Degrees of latitude gives students an opportunity to explore how early maps were created. Follow a young surveyor, George Washington, as he trudges through the Virginia wilderness with only a chain and a compass. See how eighteenth-century mapmakers like John Mitchell determined which resources would create an accurate map. And learn about the impact maps have had on people and events throughout history.

Series: Electronic field trips to Colonial Williamsburg.

Date from C.A. Smith, List of ms. maps Ayer Coll. no. 257; note on map refers to another map published in 1821.
Unsigned map showing territory in west central Wisconsin and southeastern Minnesota; triangular tract roughly bounded by present day Saint Paul (Minn.) and Iron and Wood Counties (Wis.)

Drawn on a General Land Office township grid; many townships include names of title claimants. 'Explanation' contains 13 lines of text describing the limits of a land grant purportedly given to explorer Jonathan Carver by two Dakota Indian chiefs in 1767. Beginning after Carver's 1780 death and well into the twentieth century, his descendants and other parties repeatedly made unsuccessful claims on the so-called 'Carver grant.'

For discussion of the fraudulent development of the Carver Grant, see John Parker's New light on Jonathan Carver. For brief description of another ms. map of the grant dated ca. 1845 at the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, see David Bosse's The Maps of Robert Rogers and Jonathan Carver. Both pieces appear in The American magazine and historical chronicle v. 2 no. 1 (Spring-Summer 1986).

Scale [ca. 1:352,000].

Cartobibliography for catalogers : reference materials to support the identification of early printed maps. 2007.
Authors: Kandoian, Nancy A. p. 45-78 ; 21 cm.
Abstract: This paper serves as a basic reference tool especially for catalogers of early cartographic resources, providing an extensive, annotated list of bibliographic references that are useful for cataloging related cartobibliographical detective work. The entries are categorized as biographical sources, library bibliographies and catalogs, regional cartobibliographies by place of publication or geographic area of map coverage, thematic cartobibliographies, indexes to monographic and serial publications, comparative studies and introductory texts accompanying facsimile publications, basic bibliographies on the history of cartography, and cartographic periodicals. It provides examples of these various types of sources and comments on their helpful features. While the selections focus on English language resources and maps of North America, it suggests leads to find additional sources pertaining to particular unmet needs that may arise.

Authors: Spirinx, Nicolas, fl. 1606-1643 -- Rand McNally Collection (Newberry Library) -- Yale University
1 globe : col. ; 78 mm. diam., height with detachable base, 83 mm., in box 21 x 11 x 12 cm.
Title supplied by cataloger.
This, with the accompanying terrestrial globe (see Map4C G3170 1610 .S759 1952 (PrCt)), was part of a small edition which Rand McNally produced, probably as promotional gifts, from the reproduction of gores dated 1610 used on their 1951 Christmas card; the ball is hollow plastic, the stand a chair leg protector.
Reproduced from globe gores held by Yale University.
For copy of the Christmas card see RMcN Christmas Card Collection (PrCt).
Forms part of the Rand McNally Collection (Newberry Library).
Both the Yale and Newberry copies of the original gores (see Novacco 2F 9 and Novacco 2F 10) are suspected of being restrikes or forgeries of 1610 gores onto 19th-century machine-made paper.

1 map : hand col. ; 176 x 355 mm. (neat line), on sheet 180 x 359 mm.
Title supplied by cataloger.
12 gores on 1 sheet.
Apparently a restrike or forgery of a 1610 map onto 19th-century machine-made paper; see 1 p. summary of 1977 examination by the Newberry Library’s conservation department, filed in the Special Collections Map Information File.

Forms part of the Franco Novacco Map Collection (Newberry Library).

Both sets of Spirinx gores were produced as globes by Rand McNally ca. 1952, in a small edition, probably as promotional gifts, from the reproduction of the gores used on their 1951 Christmas card.

Statement of responsibility from cover.

"This lushly illustrated book - Beyond Burnham: An Illustrated History of Planning for the Chicago Region provides a fascinating account of a century of visionary planning for metropolitan Chicago. From Daniel H. Burnham and Edward H. Bennett's famed 1909 Plan of Chicago to the push for superhighways and battles over urban sprawl, the book showcases an illustrated portrait of the big personalities and the "big plans" they espoused." "The human face of planning appears in the interplay between public officials and citizen advocates. Powerful institutions - the Chicago Plan Commission and Regional Transportation Authority, among others - emerge to promote metropolitan goals. Some efforts succeed while others fail, but the work of planners lives on in efforts to shape new visions..."
for the region’s future." "Schwieterman and Mammoser’s brisk history, with its numerous maps and historical photographs, will at once entertain, inform, and engage in the spirit of this great metropolitan region." --Back cover.

Newberry Library Cartographic Catalog (2015)

Authors: Sanborn Map Company -- Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company -- Chicago Region Map Collection (Newberry Library)

50 v. : col. maps ; 63 cm.

For publication dates, last recorded correction dates, and geographic coverage of all volumes, refer to Index map shelved with collection.

Most volumes contain correction records dated to 1990, but Peoples Gas estimates that corrections were made until 1993.

Some volumes are accompanied by supplemental maps compiled by Peoples Gas for internal use, and variously revised between 1940-1978; these refer explicitly to Sanborn volumes, but do not include the footprints of individual buildings nor the construction codes found on Sanborn maps; bound within scattered Sanborn atlases and within two separate volumes.

For variant copies of v. 6-7 (covering the Near West Side and West Town), published 1916-1917 and revised through 1951, see temp map8C G1409.C4 S3 1916.

This collection includes Winnetka volume (published 1938, corrected to 1970): Insurance maps of Winnetka, Illinois including Kenilworth & part of NewTrier Township; for a photocopy of a different copy of Winnetka volume, see folio oG1408.C7 S3 1938a.

Scales differ.

Donated by Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company to the Newberry Library in 1999.

Digital versions of variant copies of these volumes available on the "Sanborn Maps of Illinois, 1867-1970" website (hosted by the Consortium of Academic and Research Libraries in Illinois (CARLI); accessed October 2011): http://collections.carli.illinois.edu/cdm4/index_sanborn.php?CISOROOT=sanborn

"Chicago is a glorious and ever-changing mishmash of neighborhoods with names and dividing lines subject to passionate debate. This map is unofficial. Don't confuse it with the city's 'community areas' or its political wards. Or even the Catholic parish boundaries that defined neighborhoods for some. It celebrates and revels in the lively conversation about where we live."

1 ms. map : ink, watercolor, and pencil on tracing paper ; 37 x 107 cm.

Shows area between the Indian boundary lines from Lake Michigan to the junction of those lines with the Illinois and Kankakee Rivers; also line from southern extremity of Lake Michigan to Rock Island and connection with the Illinois Military Bounty Lands.

Pencilled note near Mississippi River: It would seem from the latitude of R[ock] Island as deduced from that of the N. boundary of the public surveys that Mesrs. P[hilips] and G[raham] had taken this variation 3 too great.

The report of Joseph Philips and Richard Graham, the boundary commissioners, dated Kaskasia, April 4th, 1819, is printed in U.S., 16th Cong., 1st sess., 1819-20, H. Doc. 17.

Scale [ca. 1:316,800] (W 90°45'--W 87°30'/N 42°05'--N 41°20').

Another copy of this map is in the National Archives, Cartographic and Architectural Branch, RG 75, Central Map File #731; the Newberry owns a photocopy of this map (map2F G4102.N6B5 1819 S8 1990).

Described and reproduced in Mapline no. 61-62 (Spring-Summer 1991) p. 8-9.

Authors: Geological Survey (U.S.) -- United States. Army Map Service -- Illinois State Geological Survey -- Chicago Region Map Collection (Newberry Library)
79 maps (not including duplicates or variant editions) : col. ; on sheets 69 x 56 cm.
Scale 1:24,000.
Compiled by the U.S. Geological Survey in association with other agencies, including the U.S. Army Map Service and the Illinois State Geological Survey.
Individual quadrangles issued in various editions between 1949-1980; collection includes multiple editions of most sheets and duplicates of some editions; see list of edition dates filed with collection.
Quadrangle titles of sheets covering Cook County and adjacent 'collar' counties, arranged by county name, and listed thereafter in rows progressing west to east and north to south:
These sheets form part of the Illinois 7.5 minute series collected at the Newberry in 623 sheets, and are variously dated 1948-1991; see index map filed with collection.
Duplicate and variant copies form a second Newberry collection of this series of Illinois quadrangles; see Map6C G3700 19-- .U5, boxes 57-60 (PrCt)
See also the oversized 3-sheet USGS map of the Chicago region published between 1963-1965 at the same scale (temp map roll g4104.C6A1 1963 .U5), compiled from the quadrangles listed above.
