American boundaries: the nation, the states, the rectangular survey / Bill Hubbard, Jr. Chicago : University of Chicago Press, 2009.
Authors: Hubbard, Bill, 1947-xiv, 452 p. : ill., maps ; 29 cm.
Contents: Introduction: Boundaries in the United States as the manifest division of the nation’s lands -- The colonies stake claims to land in the West -- The idea of a national domain emerges -- The national domain expands -- A method of forming new states emerges -- The evolution of the territories and states -- Inventing a rectangular survey in the Ordinance of 1785 -- Putting a rectangular survey on the ground in Ohio -- The rectangular survey evolves into its final form -- The survey is extended across the public domain -- The spread of the survey across Montana -- Epilogue: Other ways to apportion a public domain.
Summary: For anyone who has looked at a map of the United States and wondered how Texas and Oklahoma got their panhandles, or flown over the American heartland and marveled at the vast grid spreading out in all directions below, this book will yield a welcome treasure trove of insight. The first book to chart the country's growth using the boundary as a political and cultural focus, the author’s narrative begins by explaining how the original thirteen colonies organized their borders and decided that unsettled lands should be held in trust for the common benefit of the people. He goes on to show, with the help of photographs, diagrams, and hundreds of maps, how the notion evolved that unsettled land should be divided into rectangles and sold to individual farmers, and how this rectangular survey spread outward from its origins in Ohio, with surveyors drawing straight lines across the face of the continent. Mapping how each state came to have its current shape, and how the nation itself formed within its present borders, this book provides historians, geographers, and general readers alike with the story behind those fifty distinctive jigsaw puzzle pieces that together form the United States. Mémoires du capitaine Péron, sur ses voyages aux côtes d'Afrique, en Arabie, à l'Île d'Amsterdam, aux îles d'Anjouan et de Mayotte, aux côtes nord-ouest de l'Amérique, auxîles Sandwich, à la Chine, etc. ... (1824) -- Brissot-Thivars, Louis Saturnin, b. 1792 -- Bossange Frères -- Everett D. Graff Collection of Western Americana (Newberry Library) -- Edward E. Ayer Collection (Newberry Library)

1 map; 13 x 19 cm., folded to 22 x 13 cm.

In Péron, François. Mémoires du capitaine Péron, sur ses voyages aux côtes d'Afrique, en Arabie, à l'Île d'Amsterdam, aux îles d'Anjouan et de Mayotte, aux côtes nord-ouest de l'Amérique, auxîles Sandwich, à la Chine, etc. ... (Paris: Brissot-Thivars; Bossange Frères, 1824) v. 1, between p. 292-293.

In top margin: 'No. 4. Mémoires du Capitaine Péron. Longitude oriental de Paris. Tome 1er. Page 293.'

Details ship's route.

The British museum catalog attributes this work to François Péron, 1775-1810; Querard and the Bibliothèque nationalecatalogue to Captain Péron; the preface by L.S. Brissot states the author was born in 1769, and that the work was prepared for publication by M. Bénard; H.R. Wagner, in California historical quarterly, v. 1, no. 2, suspects that Péron was a fictitious individual and that Bénard prepared the work from miscellaneous sources.

Forms part of the Everett D. Graff Collection of Western Americana at the Newberry Library.

'This is a copy of a map accompanying the report of the 1835 expedition of Col. Henry Dodge. Carl Wheat, Mapping the trans-mississippi west, vol. 2, pp. 142-150, discusses McCoy's influence on the published maps of the early 1830s. His MS maps were used as sources, and his advice was sought by the War Department. This is a copy of one prepared by Lt. Washington Hood in 1835. It is known that Hood worked with McCoy. We can infer that McCoy furnished data for this map. The Pawnees never occupied the area north of the Platte River.' -- Inscription by Miss. Jones on verso.

Signed and dated at end: James Colnett November 2nd 1794.

Narrative, daily journal, maps, and drawings documenting the voyage of the Rattler to the Pacific coastal islands of South and Central America, and return, Jan. 4, 1793-Nov. 1, 1794. Narrative discusses stops at the Atlantic ports of Rio de Janeiro and Saint Helena; sailing weather, currents, winds, and routes; repairs and provisioning; whaling efforts; bottom measurements, latitude, longitude, terrain, plant and animal life, water, and safety of the various islands; and diet, diseases, and mental state of the crew. Also comments on Colnett's earlier voyages, accounts by previous island visitors, and the necessity of avoiding Spanish ports and vessels. Daily journal entries list longitudes, latitudes, temperatures, barometric pressures, and weather conditions. There are also twenty-eight watercolor drawings (mainly island and coastal views) and eleven maps (showing routes taken and islands explored).

A British naval officer and ship's captain, in 1792 Colnett was nominated by the Admiralty to command the ship Rattler on an expedition to examine ports off the coast of South America that would allow British whalers to refresh and refit. Financed by commercial interests, the mission was also to return with a cargo of whale oil. The
