Manuscript field notes describing all Illinois townships. Compiled by survey teams under contract to the U.S. Surveyor General and the U.S. General Land Office. The notes chiefly describe township and section lines, and the manner in which corners were marked, but occasionally include brief mention of natural features and vegetation, including prairie, timber, bodies of water, salines, salt licks, islands, soil quality, sloughs, and fields. Man-made features infrequently described: wagon trails, roads, settlements, buildings, Indian reservations, traces, and boundaries of French, English, and Indian claims. Names of surveyors, chainmen, flagmen, and other Land Office officials regularly included. Once a township survey was completed, the notes were forwarded to the Surveyor General for approval and subsequent compilation of manuscript plat maps for each township.
