them in the Theatrum from 1603L onwards. They represent the dignitaries entitled to choose German Emperors, as instituted to end the turmoil and quarrelling that occurred after the death of Charles the Great, by Otto IV and the Pope. This plate shows left of the Emperor the highest ranking officials, three ecclesiastical and four lay dignitaries. The second rank consists of four dukes and four marquises, the third of 8 counts. Further ranks are depicted on the sequel plate, Ort 202. The copper plate used for printing this view has been preserved in the

Anonymous and undated manuscript atlas of road maps, showing the route from Paris to Brittany via the towns of Dreux and Allençon. The atlas is in the style of those produced by the office of Ponts et Chaussées under the direction of Daniel-Charles Trudaine and Jean-Rodolphe Perronet and, like them, is neither signed nor dated (cf. Georges Reverdy, Atlas historique des routes de France [Paris, 1986], pp. 91-92, 102-103). Each of the 90 double-page maps in the atlas represents a segment of the road between Paris and Brittany, with the route including 31 cities, beginning with the Chaillot area of Paris, the Parisian suburbs of Auteuil, Bellevue, Sèvre, and Versailles, and continuing on through Houdan, Marolles, Dreux, St.-Rémy, Tillieres, Allençon, and Laval. The final map shows the border between the Généralité de Tours and Bretagne, near the Forêt du Pertre. Color and size of lines indicate whether roads are paved, gravelled, or completely unsurfsed; and tiny clusters of houses and churches drawn in the margins represent towns along the way, with distances from Paris, given in "toises". Possible date suggested by Auvergne grapes watermark, present in printed works from 1753-1763. Title within ornamental cartouche of acanthus leaves and flowers in gray watercolor; lightly ruled in pencil. Maps, within double-ruled black borders, are finely drawn in great detail, and hand-colored with watercolors in shades of green, brown, beige, blue, and red; open fields, forests, and chateau gardens are especially well-represented in pictorial form. Includes alphabetical index of important towns on the Paris-Bretagne route. Watermark is a simple stem of grapes; countermarks contain paper-maker's name, grade of paper ("Fin"), and mill location ("Auvergne"), followed by initial year of production ("1742"--some marks dated "1748"). Cf. W.A. Churchill, Watermarks in paper (Amsterdam 1935), nos. 477-478. Contemporary binding of olive-green morocco, with ornate gold-stamped borders of lilies, acanthus leaves, and diced ornaments, and shell-shaped corner fleurons; gilt-stamped fleur-de-lis in spine panels, and gilt spine title "Routte de Paris en Bret."; rose-pink watered silk front and back endpapers and pastedowns; inner gilt dentelles; all edges gilt. Leipzig : O. Harrassowitz, 1904. Authors: Hantzsch, Viktor, 1868-1910 vi, 146 p. ; 24 cm. Series: Beiheft zum Zentralblatt für Bibliothekswesen, 28. Cataloging began in 1891, with cards filed in geographical arrangement and alphabetically. They used a pre-printed form designed by Sophus Ruge, which included an accurate transcription of the title, in line with the Preussischen Instruktionen of 1899. This main entry card was then filed alphabetically according to a geographical classification of the world devised by Johann Michael Franke in 1768. The “alphabetical catalog” was an index, on smaller cards, to names associated with a map. Concludes with a sample printed catalog of 686 items, arranged according to the geographical system, to give an overview of the Dresden collections. Z 007 .191, no. 28 (NLO)

Photocopies of ca. 2,400 index card (8 cards per leaf); includes additions of Newberry Library index cards through 1919 at the end.
Unpublished index of manuscript maps, tracings, views, engravings and printed maps, issued individually and in atlases. The map collection was compiled and indexed as part of the French Marine Collection, which comprises about 6,000 pages of manuscript text and 4,000 manuscript and printed graphic items, variously housed in 20 bound volumes, 20 map drawers, and 44 oversize boxes (cataloged as Case G 100 .3). The entire collection was donated to the Newberry Library by Edward E. Ayer in 1903. He purchased it from Librairie Chadenet. For library correspondence and an outline of Carles’ life and classification scheme, see a bound folio of these items (ca. 30 leaves, 20 blank) in the collection.

Geography - 1543

Authors: Solinus, C. Julius, 3rd cent. -- Mela, Pomponius -- Münster, Sebastian, 1489-1552 -- Oliver, Pedro Juan, 16th cent. -- Camers, Joannes, 1447-1546 -- Isingrin, M. (Michael), 1500-1557 -- Edward E. Ayer Collection (Newberry Library)

Uniform title: Polyhistor

Colophon: Basileae apud Michaelem Ising. M.D. XLIII.

Contains life of Solinus, by Joannes Camers (p. [3-4], 1st group).

Text by Solinus covers p. [1]-144, 2nd group, 2 folded maps, with preface on p. [20], 1st group; text by Mela covers p. 147-229, with preface on p. [145]-146.

Folded map accompanying p. 144 shows territory to the east of Asia marked "Terra incognita", considered to represent the Northwest coast of North America. Wagner (in discussing the 1538 edition), however, questions this opinion and holds that it might represent Japan instead. The text on p. 144 refers to it [in translation] as "... extreme coast, as has been explored in our time by men."

A reprint of the 1538 ed. of Solinus and Mela, with the same maps, but has in addition the commentaries of Petrus Olivarius. Contains the earliest known map with indication of the western coast of North America with the inscription "Terra incognita."

Originally published under title: Iulii Solini De situ et memorabilibus orbis capitula. Venice, 1473.

Consists of text, by Solinus and Mela, and commentary, by Sebastian Münster and Pedro Juan Oliver (the latter printed in italics).

This copy lacks the original impression of Sir Jerome Bowes' account, 'The ambassage of Sir Hierome Bowes to the emperour of Moscovie 1583', p. 491-505, and contains the corrected cancel only, 'A briefe discourse of the voyage of Sir Jerome Bowes ... in the yeer 1582: and printed this second time, according to the true copie I receiued of a gentleman that went in the same voyage, for the correction of the errours in the former impression', p. 491-501.
