English Manuscripts - Cusk, Sarah. Checklist of English manuscripts in the Newberry Library, 1500–1865

The aim of this checklist is to provide an introduction to those manuscripts in English in the Newberry Library produced between 1500 and 1865. Pre-1500 or “medieval” manuscripts are listed by Saenger (some are also listed in the online catalog); post-1865 manuscripts largely form part of the Modern Manuscripts collection and so are separately inventoried; for manuscripts in the Ayer collection, the reader should consult Butler and the online catalog. The parameters for this inventory are fairly wide: included are all manuscripts in the Case, Wing and Graff collections which are either in English or by English or American authors (a category that here includes composers, writing-masters, translations, and even, in some cases, subjects of legal documents).

The heterogeneous nature of the manuscripts here is actually a rather good reflection of the broad range of topics that can be studied at the Newberry. For example, the reader will find in this checklist manuscript copies of early-modern prose romances, letters exchanged between Ulysses S. Grant and Robert E. Lee, the autographs of United States presidents, a Pennsylvania Dutch birth certificate and collections of eighteenth-century songs. This list does not try to describe a coherent collection but rather to provide one form of access to manuscripts that fall outside the boundaries of the Newberry’s individual collections.

The checklist was compiled from the shelf lists of the Case, Wing, and Graff collections. Most of these entries are abbreviated and the reader may find additional bibliographic information in the online catalog. This checklist does not include the Newberry’s collection of facsimiles of various English manuscripts in other libraries. Entries for such facsimiles will be found in the online catalog.
