

The Legacy of Chicago Dance

Exhibition

The Legacy of Chicago Dance

April 27 – July 6, 2019

Exhibition Tours

Fridays and Saturdays at 2 pm

To schedule a private group tour, contact Rebecca Haynes, at haynesr@newberry.org or (312) 255-3526.

Exhibition Programs

Symposium on Dance in the Midwest

Saturday, May 18, 9:30 am to 3 pm

Jenai Cutcher, Black Hawk Hancock, Alison Hinderliter, Susan Manning, Meida Teresa McNeal, Liesl Olson, Elizabeth Schwall, and Queen Meccasia Zabriskie

Gene Kelly backstage, Harris Theatre, Chicago, 1939. Photo credit: Ann Barzel. Ann Barzel Research Collection.

Spotlight on Gene Kelly The Chicago Years

Thursday, June 6
6 to 7 pm

Patricia Ward Kelly

Sybil Shearer in "All is not gold, but almost," from Fables and Proverbs, c. 1961. Photo credit: Helen Balfour Morrison, courtesy of the Morrison-Shearer Foundation.

Choreography and the Archives

Preservation, Tradition, and Innovation from Sybil Shearer through the Present

Thursday, June 13
6 to 7:30 pm

Choreographers Jan Bartoszek, Ella Rosewood, Melissa Thodos, Luis Vazquez, and moderator Hedy Weiss

The Legacy of Chicago Dance exhibition has been generously supported by Patti Selander Eylar and Charles Gardner and Diane and Richard Weinberg. Additional support is provided by the Rosaline G. Cohn Endowment for Exhibitions. Support for public programs for The Legacy of Chicago Dance is provided by Cindy and Stephen Mitchell and the Morrison-Shearer Foundation. The Symposium on Dance in the Midwest is part of a multidisciplinary initiative titled What Is the Midwest? funded by a major grant from The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation.

Register to attend these free programs at www.newberry.org/public-programs